

Notes from today

The afternoon was quiet, so I sat down to write a few things. A good paragraph has room to breathe. Some words lean together; others settle gently into the next line. Nothing needs to be perfectly straight.

- Bring a pencil and a notebook.
- Keep practicing, day by day.